Sorry that this post is a little late getting up, we meant to have it up yesterday but didnt have time before i went to work. So here you go the site update for this week.

There hasent been much added this week due to the change's i did to the video section which i re did 2 time's which took up a good portion of my free time. But i was able to get a few anime's up. So the anime's that where added are.....

- Da Capo
- Kanon
- Najica: Blitz Tactics

We meant to add at least 1 volume to the manga/doujinshi section but ended up not haveing the time. So this week we will be putting up at least 2 volume's of manga to make up for last week. Also we have decided to change the imageboard around some and also we will be changeing the anime of the month to anime of the week. Next week will be the first week we start this, we also been thinking of doing one for manga/doujishi too but thats just in thought's at the moment.

Oh and a last thing i have to say is that i just found out that Stage 6 will be shutting down so there will not be any stream's put up from them anymore uless something happen's like the site gets sold or something of that matter. So veoh will be the only site i be putting stream's up from, for a while untill i find another site that offer's what stage 6 and veoh do. If you know of any good site's please do contact me at mwvdragon@gdragonryuujin.com thank's in advance. Enjoy the new addition's.^^
